According to the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (cdc.gov), COVID-19 is a new disease, caused by a novel (or new) coronavirus that has not previously been seen in humans. The virus that causes COVID-19 is thought to spread mainly from person to person, mainly through respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes. Spread is more likely when people are in close contact with one another (within about 6 feet). Symptoms ranging from mild to severe illness may appear 2-14 days after exposure to the virus and may include: cough, shortness of breath or difficulty breathing, fever, chills, muscle pain, sore throat, new loss of taste or smell. According to the CDC, 35% of COVID-19 patients are asymptomatic, meaning they don't show any signs or symptoms. Those at high-risk for severe illness from COVID-19 are: people age 65 years and older, people who live in a nursing home or long-term care facility, and people of all ages with underlying medical conditions like chronic lung disease, moderate or severe asthma, serious heart conditions, immunocompromised, severe obesity, diabetes, chronic kidney disease, and liver disease. Please be mindful of these symptoms and of your family's current state of health. If you believe you or your child are not healthy or at high risk of exposure, we understand your lack of participation at this time.
